DELEGATES ARE ELECTED

121st Annual Council of Episcopal Diocese of Virginia

FIRST DAY'S SESSION

Fredericksburg is Selected as Meeting Place Next Year —Large Attendance in Warrenton

Warrenton, May 19—The Episcopal Council of Virginia, at its session here yesterday, elected the following delegates to the general Council, which meets in St. Louis in October. The Revs. W. D. Smith, E. L. Goodwin, J. J. Gravatt, August Crawford, ministerial delegates, and Judge Norton, P. H. Mayo, Roswell Page and J. Stuart Bryan, lay delegates.

The council voted to meet in Fredericksburg in 1917.

First Day —Morning Session.

Warrenton, Va., May 19.—The One Hundred and Twenty-first annaual council of the Episcopal Diocese of Virginia opened with divine services in St. James' Church, Warrenton at 10 o'clock a. m., There were present in the chancel Bishop Gibson, Bishop Co-adjutor Brown, the Rev. E. L. Goodwin, D. D., secretary of the council, the Rev. Arch-deacon Neve, the Rev. G. McL. Brydon, and the Rev. W. G. Pendleton, rector of St. James' Church.

Bishop Gibson delivered his charge at the service in which he enlarged upon the subject of the supremacy and sanctity of law so as to save the church from the dangers of lawlessness.

He reported the deaths of three of the clergy during the past council year, as follows: the Rev. Dr. Evans, of West Point, the Rev W. P. Painter, of McLean, Fairfax county, and the Rev. H. H. Barber of Fredericksburg.

The Holy Communion was then administered by Bishop Co-adjutor Brown, assisted by the Rev. Dr. Goodwin. The special prayers at the close were read by Bishop Gibson, who also pronounced the benediction.

The council convened for business, at 12 o'clock, noon with Bishop Gibson in the chair. The roll of clerical and lay delegates was then called by the secretary with 4 clercial and 39 lay delegates present forming a full number for the transaction of business.

The rules of order of the former council were accepted for this.

The bishop then appointed the usual standing committees for the council.

Bishop Gibson then read his annual report, calling attention in the first place to the increasing work of the church, in every department of its organised life, This work of course implies increasing financial obligation. We have now at the present time the General Board of Religious Education, the Provincial Board of the same and the Sunday School Commision of the diocese which is really its Board of Religious Education. Then there are Social Service Commissions for the General Church, the Provinces and the Dioceses. Oother special commissions and work will make the expenses of the diocese seventy-five per cent more than heretofore. The means by which all the diocesean expenses are raised is the Contingent Fund. It is far from being in any sense really contingent, but it is one of the most certain things for which demands must be made in the diocese.

The Bishop repeats the request that a change be made in section 4 of the Canon on vestries. One requirement should be that the whole vestry of parishes, containing two or more congregations apart from each other, shall meet at least twice in the year. The bishop now recommends that only communicants be recognised as vestrymen. An inspector of Missions has been appointed by the Executive Committee of the Diocesan glad to hear that Bishop Brown has kindly accepted the position. As an inspector of missions he may become an inspector of schools.

The diocese of Virginia has shown the deepest interest in the Church Pension Fund, and it is gratifying to know that $2,500; that is half of the Misionary Society, and the council is fund aimed for has been partly raised and partly pledged. But this amount is now assured and there is strong confidence that the whole amount will be shortly raised. The Every Member Canvass has been of great service to the diocese and it only needs information on the subject to be so diffused through every

MASONIC BAZAR IN FALL

Will Be Held Under the Auspices of The George Washington Memorial Association

Plans have been put under way by the Masons of this city for one of the largest bazaars that have ever been held in Alexandria, to take place between October 9 and 20, inclusive, in the Armory, the proceeds to go to the fund for the erection of the memorial temple to Washington, the Mason, on Shooter's Hill in the western part of this city. The fair will be given under the auspices of the local committee of the George Washington Memorial Association.. It has been seven years since anything similar to the proposed affair has been given by the Masonic bodies of Alexandria, and at that time $8,000 was cleared. The bazaar to be held in October promises to surpass the old bazaar and anything of the kind ever held in the city before.

A general executive committee has already been announced with James M. Duncan as chairman, and J. E. Shinn, as vice-chairman. The following-named men, who are chairmen of special committees coming under the supervision of the general committee, constitute the committeemen of Messrs. Duncan and Shinn: Samuel W. Pitts, chairman of committee on organizations; Dr. Thos. B. Cochran, chairman of committee on contributions; F. W. Latham, chairman decorations committee; C. W. Fletcher, chairman of committee on special features; George H. Schwarzman, chairman of committee on booths; J. E. W. Timberman, chairman of printing committee; M. L. Diswiddie, chairman of publicity committee; C. E. Outcalt, chairman of music committee; J. Johnston Green, treasurer; C. Page Waller, jr., secretary. The following have also been appointed members of the general committee: Charles H. Callahan, Henry K. Field, C. E. Dare, R. L. Payne, Percy E. Clift, C. E. Lindsey, Charles E. Tenneson, Mayor Thomas A. Fisher, George W. Zachary, and Chester A. Gwinn.

A committee of ladies has also been appointed by the Masons, Mrs. Geo. B. Carlin, being named as chairman.

A number of valuable articles will be raffled away, including an automobile, talking-machine, and several other articles of value. There will be no paddles wheels, however, or anything likely to give an appearance of gambling to the fair, the Masonic law prohibiting such.

The committee on special features expects to have a highly entertaining feature each night of the bazaar, for the amusement of the patrons. One that has been announced by them is a competitive drill to take place between the Masonic shrine patrols of the lodges of Washington, Baltimore, Richmond and Norfolk.

COMMITTS SUICIDE.

Fire of unknown origin practically destroyed the mending plant in the Navy Yary at Norfolk last night. A number of miniature ship models were being built in this plant for the purpose of conducting experimental test to determine the resisting power of their armor when struck by a torpedo. The Portsmouth Ciyt Fire Department, assisted by the Navy Yard Department in extinguishing the blaze.

SUBMARINES RAID BALTIC

British and Russians Waging Campaign Against Germans

SINK THREE VESSELS

Other Ships of Teutons Remain in Port Apprehensive of Attack From The Allies

Stockholm, May 19—The German steamer Hera was sunk yesterday morning off Landsort in the Baltic.

The sinking of the Hera marks the first activity of British submarines in the Baltic this season. The Hera left Stockholm on Tuesday to take 2,000 tons of iron ore at Oxloesund. Her captain was ordered on board the submarine with the ship's papers and taken prisoner.

Sufficient time was given the crew to leave the ship. Although the weather was rough, all on board were saved. The report of the submarine's activity has stopped the movement of numerous German vessels with cargoes of iron ore now at Ozloesund and other ports.

According to the Dagens Nyheter, the German steamer Hera was torpedoed by a Russian submarine southwest of Landsort after having received warning.

London, May 19—The sinking of two German steamships by a submarine, believed to be a Russian, is reported in a Reuter dispatch from Stockholm. The steamships were the Kolga, Hamburg for Stockholm and the Bianca.

The steamships were torpedoed Wednesday afternoon off the Swedish Island of Landsort, in the Baltic. The Kolga was attacked at 5 p. m., being shelled by the submarine for 20 minutes. Two members of the crew were slightly injured.

The Kolga was then torpedoed and sunk. Thirteen of the crew were picked up by a Swedish steamer. Four others, including the captain and second mate are missing.

Half an hour later the Bianca was shelled and then torpedoed. The attack occurred in the same vicinity as that on the Kolga. The captain was taken prisoner. Two members of the crew were injured slightly. They and the other members of the crew were picked up by the vessel which rescued the men from the Kolga.

A large number of British submarines are operating in the eastern and southern portions of the Baltic Sea, which now is ice free, says a dispatch to the Exchange, Telegraph from Copenhagen. It was one of the these submarines which sank the German steamer Hera, the dispatch adds.

Lloyd's announces that the French steamer Mira has been sunk. The announcement gives no details as to her sinking.

ASSEMBLY IS STORMY.

Atlantic City, N. J. May 19.—The Dev. Dr. John A. Marquis, president af Coe College, Cedar Rapids, Iowa, was elected moderator of the General Presbyterian Assembly on the second ballot yesterday afternoon in posibly the keenest contest ever waged by the conference. He was named over William L. McEwan, pastor of the Third Presbyterian Church, of Pittsburgh, Pa., only after the Rev. George L. Robinson, of Chicago, had withdrawn in favor of the successful candidate.

The Union Theological Seminary trouble persistently crept into the afternoon session, in the nominating speeches. The Rev. John Ewart, of Colorado Springs, Col., who seconded the nomination of Dr. McEwan, let the trouble in.

"The ship of the church," said Dr. Ewart, "is in danger of being torpedoed by a submarine. There are men raising the voice of unbelief in the Presbyterian body. It is a grave crisis we have been facing. Today Dr. McEwan stands solidly for the fundamentals of the faith." Delegates stamped disapproval of the trend of the address.

DAUGHTERS' CONVENTION

Principal Address Made by Mrs Norman V. Randolph and Mrs J. Taylor Ellyson.

Suffolk, Va., May 19.—With flags flying and Confederate colors displayed everywhere, Suffolk welcomed the State convention of the Daughters of the Confederacy to the city Wednesday morning The delegates were met at the trains by a reception committee, who took them to the Central Building and there introduced them to their hostesses.

The sessions were opened this morning with devotional exercises by Rev. John F. Coleman, with Miss Annie Mann, of Petersburg, presiding as district chairman. The principal addresses of the day were made by Mrs. Norman V. Randolph and Mrs. J. Taylor Ellyson, of Richmond, Mrs Randolph, who six years ago, organized the relief work, told of its wonderful growth and of the great good that has been accomplished in helping needy Confederate women. In her appeal to the Daughters to continue this splendid work and to give even more generaously, Mrs. Randolph said:

"You will be called on to help the poor old woman just a little while longer, and the women of the Confederacy, will have passed into the Great Beyond."

Mrs. Randolph spoke with feeling of the meeting in Suffolk, six years ago, and congratulated the Daughters on the progress shown, She told of the help rendered by the Legislature in its appropriations to the cause which enables the sum of $3 a month to be sent to 166 needy Confederate women. The chapters also contribute a like sum each month to thirty-six others, who are single women and cannot be helped by the State appropriation.

Mrs. Randolph was followed by Mrs. Ellyson, who gave an interesting talk on the Virginia Room at the Confederate Museum in Richmond. She mentioned many of the things that the Daughters have been instrumental in securing for this room.

Mrs. W. C. Merchant, of Chatham, director of the Shiloh Memorial Association, spoke of the work of this association, which was organized to erect on the battle field of Shiloh, in Tennessee, a mounment which is to cost $50,000 and of which sum $36,000 has been raised. The chapters of the district were asked to be as liberal as possible to this cause.

Among the other officers and prominent daughters present today were Mrs. G. C. Holmes, of Surry Courthouse, former historian of the Virginia Division; Miss Kensett and Mrs. Anthony Walker, of Norfolk, and Miss Shannon, of Portsmouth.

In the afternoon the visitors were give an automobile ride about the city. Tonight a theater party was greatly enjoyed by the delegates and their hostesses.

VOTE FOR FORD CAUSES WORRY

Pacifist's Popularity Taken as Sign of Danger at Present

RUMORS OF BOLTING

Possibility of Detroit Manufacturer Entering the Field as an Independent Candidate

Washington, May 19—The amazing vote cast in Michigan, in Nebraska and in Pennsylvania for Henry Ford for the Presidency is the most extraordinary phenomenon that has developed in national politics during this campaign.

Moreover, it is a vote that is causing widespread concern among Republican leaders and an equal measure of interest among Democrats. All hands are trying to fathom the significance of a candidacy that is not a candidacy, of an eagerness of thousands of voters to ballot for an idea, of the determination of so many men in sections far removed from each other to support a mere propagandist for the highest office in the land.

And it is easy to see that such a situation has certain definite possibilities. For instance, Henry Ford, in his enthusiasm for peace and in his hostility to national preparedness, may be induced to offer himself as an independent candidate for the Presidency. He might become convinced that such a course is the only means whereby the people who believe as he does can voice their protest against the policies of the two great parties.

As a matter of fact, rumors have been current for some time that an organized campaign is about to be launched in behalf of Ford, and that it is being withheld until the Republican and Democratic Conventions have named their candidates and announced their platforms. The nominee of each of these conventions will be pledged to a vigorous maintenance of American rights at home and abroad and to a broad program of national defense.

The Ford people know this, of course, They do not dream that the Detroit man may be the choice of the Republican Convention whatever may be the first-ballot vote for him at Chicago. They expect the nomination of a Roosevelt or a Hughes or a Burton and fully understand the pledges which that nominee will give to the country. Neither the Republican ticket nor the Republican platform will be in line with the Ford propaganda.

With these things anticipated, it is the plan of the peace-at-any price advocates, according to the best information, to name a ticket of their own and go before the country with a direct appeal of their own. They would, it is said, offer a candidate who would attract not only the uncompromising peace-shouters, but also the straight German vote, the straight Irish vote and the straight labor vote.

The opposition of Ford to all national defense legislation, it is figured would invite the support of those German-Americans who will be unable to find any comfort in the promises of Republicans or Democrats; those Irish-Americans who have assailed the shipment of arms to the Allies, and the labor class that point to the wages and hours which Ford has given the employes of his factories.

These are the elements from which Mr. Ford's friends believe he could recruit his votes, and if all four of them were to vote solidly for the Detroit manufacturer he would without doubt play an important part in the coming campaign. He might not be elected even then, but he would make it impossible for the Republicans to elect the next President.

That is the reason why Republican leaders are concerned about the Ford vote. These leaders know that Ford is not enough of a Republican necessarily to abide by the action of the Chicago convention. They know that he would not hesitate a minute to "bolt" that convention, if the impulse should seize him. They know that many crusaders have been flattered by far less than the Ford vote as already cast into believing that they were men of destiny, and they know that men have aspired to the Presidency with a good deal less than the Ford prestige and fortune to start with.

That is not all. Republicans leaders realize the fact that, if Henry Ford should be persuaded to make an independent campaign and should raise a peace German In appeal and he would draw unfitely more from the Republican party than he would from the Democratics. The German and Irish vote, for instance, has been relied upon by these leaders all along to help elect the nominee of the Chicago convention. So has the labor vote. And Republicans have hoped to split the purely peace vote with the Democrats.

VIADUCT IS COMPLETED

Railroad Trains Now Pass Over Telegraph Road Crossing Instead of on Grade

The railroad viaduct over Telegraph Road, in Fairfax county, a short distance west of the present city limits, has been completed, and within a few days will be used by the many persons residing in the lower section of the county, as well as by the many automobilists who make runs in that section of the country. The road leading from West End to the viaduct has been completed, but it will not be in a condition for vehicles until several days shall have passed.

The building of the viaduct over this highway eliminates a menace to life and limb which has existed for over three score years. In the early part of the fifties and for some time after the close of thecivil war the there was but one track across this road, and but two or three trains passed over itduring the day. In the early part of the seventies the Alexandria and Fredericksburg (now the Washington Southern) railway was constructed, which called for another track. These have been gradually augmented until now about a dozen cross the Telegraph Road.

At present many trains pass and repass, running in both directions, and the danger of crossing in vehicles or on foot has grown with the increase of the railroads' business.

A number of horrible accidents have of late years occurred in this danger zone, and the anxiety which existed resulted in an appeal to the State Corporation Commission. That body took action, though for a time nothing concrete was accomplished, but eventually the railway companies determined to construct the viaduct, and people residing in Alexandria and Fairfax will experience no little relief when they realize they can pass and repass while the railway trains harmlessly roar over their heads.

The body of his father, Joseph Shifflet, was found in a burning strawstack two weeks ago. Two years ago his mother was found dead with a gunshot wound in her head. Nine years ago a brother disappeared and has never been found. After the father's death suspicion was directed toward the young man. A posse confronted him and he killed himself.

GRAND PARADE ENDS REUNION

Surviving Wearers of Gray March in Review Before Multitude

VIRGINIA IS HONORED

Military Companies, Boy Scouts and Bugle Corps From Old Dominion Heartily Cheered

Birmingham, Ala., May 19—The twenty-sixth annual Reunion of the United Confederate Veterans became history when the gray uniformed survivors of the Army of the South passed in review in their grand parade yesterday afternoon. It was the closing scene of one of the most successful gatherings ever held by the organization, and was witnessed by tens of thousands of citizens and visitors.

Washington will entertain the Southerners next year, but there will be fewer veterans there. According to Adjutant-General Mickle, death is reducing the ranks at the rate of 14 per cent a year. Those who can go, however, anticipate "marching down Pensylvania Avenue and being reviewed by a Democratic President."

Following the parade in the afternoon a brigade of Texas veterans, commanded by Colonel Vik Reinhardt and several companies of the Alabama National Guard, commanded by Major Seals, fought a sham battle at the fair grounds.

To-night numerous special trains are scattering the veterans and visitors to their homes in all sections of the south.

The streets were a riot of color during the parade today, and the marching veterans showed remarkable enthusiasm and vigor. As each department commander and staff reached the stand from which General Young and his staff were reviewing the parade, they took up a position at the right of the general staff. The marchers were two hours and twenty minutes passing the stand, and comparatively few old soldiers were compelled to withdraw on account of fatigue.

The South Carolina men attracted a large share of attention their palmetto flag being conspicuous. The largest delegations were from Virginia, Georgia, Alabama and Tennessee. Four automobiles filled with men in the fantastic disguise of the "Ku-Klux" brought up the rear.

John A. Wood, 101 years old, and claiming to be the most aged veteran at the reunion, rode in a car by himself.

To show the public they were far from their last anual reunion gathering hundreds of the old soldiers indulged in dancing as they passed in review at the end of their long march, bringing wild cheering from the crowds. Cheers and the old rebel yell yip-yip resounded from sidewalk to sidewalk all along the line of march.

Battle-scarred flags were borne by many companies in the various commands. Negro body servants who had served with their masters in the Civil War marched again by their sides today, and there were many women, too, who marched along with their husbands, veterans, manifestly proud of the opportunity.

The gayety of the grand reunion ball was marred Wednesday night by the death of John A. Mackey, aged seventy five, of Birmingham, a veteeven. He expired on the ballroom floor just after telling a party of young people that when he died he "would like to go amid a scene of such happiness." The body was removed quickly, and comparatively few of the dancers knew of the occurrence.

Birmingham's resolution to care for old veterans first has resulted in few accidents and cases of illness. Plenty of cots were furnished in the downtown buildings and at the camp all the soldiers were placed in the buildings, and more than 4,500 men were cared for.

ANNIVERSARY OF FIRE

Alexandria's City Hall Destroyed Forty-Five Years Ago Last Night

Today forty-five years ago Alexandrians awoke to the realization of the fact that their City Hall had been totally destroyed by fire, the preceding night, May 18, 1871. Nothing but tottering walls were to be seen of the building which had been erected beyond the recollection of the oldest inhabitants. Not only had the City Hall proper ben eliminated, but old Alexandria-Washington Lodge room, the Alexandria Museum, Sun engine house on the northeast corner of the market square, the old Hydraulion engine house and the watch house were no more.

The fire originated in a frame store on the alley adjoining the City Hall on the Royal street side. The store suddenly burst into flames and was soon beyond control, and crossing the alley invaded the City Hall. That structure was a few minutes later in a roar, and the fire was making its way to the base of the steeple. The hands of the town clock continued to move while the flames were licking up the base, but they finally stood still. The steeple, acting as a flue, became a writhing mass of fire, and soon began to totter. Its fall was spectacular, and a cry of horror went up from the large multitude as they saw it descend a mass of burning embers.

The fire raged until it had virtually destroyed everything combustible, and was not stayed until it had reached the alley on the south of the present station house, on Fairfax street.

The Alexandria firemen, being unable to cope with the situation, asked aid from Washington, and one of the ferry steamers at the Washington slip, was prepared and several steam engines reached this city an hour and a half after aid had been requested.

The present structure was erected during the two years which followed.

UNIONIZING ALL LABOR.

Economists used to assert that there was a limit to the unionizing of workingmen; that there were fundamental difficulties in the way of organizing a larger proportion than 33 per cent. of the total number, say, into labor unions. But they evidently took no thought of modern developments4 The school teachers of Baltimore are seriously considering the question of joining the Federation of Labor. A good many of them are in favor of so doing. And now comes now that the Authors' League of America an organization of which Winston Churchill is president and Theodore Roosevelt vice-president, is also seriously considering the advisability of joining the ranks of union labor. This may be simply a subtle scheme on the part of the Colonel to capture the labor vote, but such it does not appear to be on the surface. It really seems to be a genuine attempt to protect the downtrodden pen-pusners against the rapacity of publishers and moving-picture producers.

A contemporary suggests that the menace of this movement lies not only in the fact that 95 per cent. of the population over ten years of age male and female, would be eligible to membership in this particular union but also in the fact that the extension of the labor movement to include professional men and women carries with it the seeds of destruction for the whole body of organized labor. If school teachers and writers of fiction can organize for more pay and shorter hours, there is no reason why lawyers and doctors and clergymen and editors and every other class of mankind should not be permitted to do so. Carried to its logical conclusion, this means that every man, woman and child in the country will, soon or late, become a union laborer. And when that happens we shall be just where we started before labor was organized at all. For the essence of labor organization is the betterment of one class at the expense of another and when all labor is organized there will be nobody to fight.

So, then, the people to fight shy of this proposed move would seem to be not the authors, but the officials and members of the Federation Labor. But we suppose they proceeding on the assumption that it is a long way to Tipperary—and so it is.

PAVING THE WAY FOR PEACE.

The following statement made public by the German Embassy yesterday is of great significance.

"In consequence of cases which have occurred of late, German Ambassador Bernstorff sent instructions to all German consuls in the United States strongly to impress on German citizens living in their districts that it is their duty scrupulously to obey the laws of the States in which they reside."

Day by day the news is coming to the State Department from Berlin and Austria that Germany now wants peace. The Kaiser emphasized the desire for an end of the war in his recent talk with American Ambassador Gerard and Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg prior to this informed Mr. Gerard that the imperial government thought the time was approaching when President Wilsan might initiate a move for peace. Count von Bernstorff here, acting under instructions from his government has emphasized the willingness of Germany to make peace and thereby put an end to "the prolonged and useless struggle."

It is suggested that the Kaiser is paving the way for peace, and the statement sent out from the Grman Embassy suggests that he deems it important to be on goo dterms with America when the inevitable hour arrives for considering terms by which the present great war may be brought to a close.

There is a disposition in some quarters to regard these movements as an indication that Germany is weakening and, relizing the inevitable, is anxious to end hostilities at a time when terms would be more favorable to her than in the future.

RUSSIA'S OWN FRIGHTFULNESS

It is observed that whatever truth there may be in the stories of the knouting and other cruelties practiced on military prisoners by the Russians, the stories themselves come as a timely reminder. Germany's campaigns of frightfulness have so shocked the neutral world that we are all too apt to think of all the allied powers as being without fault, as being humane and kindly nations, pressed by a foe of another species.

Therefore, these tales of recent Russian barbarities, whether true or not, serve to refresh the world's memory that of all the governments involved in the war, that of Russia is the most savage, relentless and cruel. Its treatment of the Jews for centuries would be enought to convict it of infamy, but the atrocities perpetrated by official order and other offenders and suspects, regardless of faith, race or sex, deepen and blacken its shame. It may be that these accounts of brutality to prisoners are exaggerated, if not false, but it is a striking commentary that only of Russia and Russian authority would they be believed at all.

NEWS OF THE DAY

Billy Sunday is to go to Baltimore to go under the knife for an aggravated case of hermia.

Lieutenants Selwyn and Bateman, military aviators, were killed instantly yesterday at Gosport, near Portsmouth, England. The aeroplane in which they were flying dived from a height of 1,000 feet.

P. Morgan and Co., leaking out.

His wife was acquitted on the same charge. It was said that Mrs. Bowen's health had been failying and physicians advised that she go south in search of a kinder climate. Bowen attempted to burn his home, in order to collect the insurance money, with which to meet the expenses of the health seeking trip for Mrs. Bowen.

The French war appropriation since the beginning of the conflict totals 110,506,000,000. The budget proposals for 1917, will yield, it is estimated $180,000,,000 additional. The revenue proposals include an increase of the income tax assessment from 2 to 5 per cent, double taxes on homes and business properties, a new dog tax, increased liquor duties, and the abolition of the private distilling privilege, which is the root and cause of France's drink problem.

The deadlock over the election of bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church at Saratoga Springs, N. Y. was broken last night on the eighth ballot, when Dr. Herbert Welch, president of Ohio Wesleyan University, Delaware, Ohio, received 544 votes, 14 more than the required two-thirds majority, in the General Conference. The Rev. Ray Allen, of Rochester, N. Y., failed in an attempt to amend the report by declaring for personal abstinence from tobacco as well as from intoxicants and narcotics.

The Northern Baptist Convention at Minneapolis, yesterday adopted, unanimously, a resolution providing for the consolidation of the missionary work of the American Baptist Publication Society and the American Baptist Home Mission Society, thus ending a controversy of years and avoiding a threatened break in the convention. Cheers greeted the adoption of the resolution, and after leaders of the opposing factions had expressed satisfaction over the agreement, which involves the appointment of a committee to work out details, 3,000 Baptists arose and sang "Blessed Be the Tie That Binds"

The House Committee on Naval Affairs yesterday disregarded the 5-year building program of Secretary Daniels, recommended the construction of battle cruisers in lieu of Dreadnoughts and adopted a naval increase program to cost approximately $160,000,0000 and calling for the following new vessels: Five battle cruisers, each with a speed of 35 knots; twenty submarines of which three will be of the fleet type and seventeen for coast defense; four scout cruisers; ten destroyers; one hospital hip; one fuel ship; and one ammunition ship. When it is reported to the House the naval appropriation bill will carry a total of approximately $240,000,000. This is more than $90,000,000 in excess of the total o flast year's bill.

VIRGINIA NEWS

Private Gillan, of the United States Marine Corps, stationed at St. Julien's Magazine, was drowned last night while atsisting in the rescue of a launch stranded on one of the river flats at Norfolk. Gillan had aided the party of pleasure-seekers into deep water, when he lost his balance and fell from his small rowboat into the river.

Judge R. H. L. Chichester, of the Circuit Court of Stafford county, has issued an injunction directing the sheriff of Stafford county to close the place of George Payne, Georgianna Payne and J. D. Humphreys, in Falmouth, to stop the sale of cider and other intoxicating drinks. The measure was taken on the recommendation of the grand jury.

That the "lid" will be put on tight in Suffolk on Sundays was the decision of Mayor Stallings last night, at the meeting of the City Council. The mayor's decision is that nothing but actual necessities may be sold in Suffolk on Sunday. This will bar the sale of "soft" drinks and ice cream in drug stores, also cigars, cigarettes and gasoline. Newspapers may be delivered as well as milk and ice cream ordered on Saturday for family use.

The jury in the case of Will McCaw on trial at Hillsville, for the past three days, charged with kiling Jasper Allen, last of the Allen clan, near the North Carolina line some weeks ago, last night brought in a verdict of "not guilty," and McCraw immediately afterwards departed from Hillsville and Carroll county. There was no demonstration. Immediately after reading of the jury's verdict which gave him his liberty McCraw embraced his mother, shook hands with a few friends and left the courtroom. He announced his intention of leaving Carroll county and the mountain district and, with a wave of his hand to his mother as she watched from a window in the little courthouse, McCraw rode off on a mount already provided by relatives into the night alone.

parish and mission to make the Every Member Canvass a cumulative service of spiritual strength and organized efficiency to the church in this diocese.

The Bisop concluded his address by insisting upon the necessity of making each diocese a complete and well compacted unit if we are going to retain our independence and give proper aid to the enterprises, which concern the larger life of the church. The traditions of Virginia all work together for this condition, and we surely realize that our strength is to stand together, and submit ourselves to any restriction of personal interest which may be involved in so doing.

The statistics of his report are as follows: Postulants received, 10, of which 2 are colored; Candidates for Orders, 2; Deacons ordained 4; Priests ordained 4; of which 1 is colored; Clergymen transferred to this dioceses 6; clergymen received in the diocese 6; a number of vacant parishes have been supplied by clerical and lay services, during this council year.

Bishop Gibson has made 18 visitations during the past year and confirmed 283 persons..

Bishop Coadjutor Brown then summarised his report. He has made 183 visitations and confirmed 803 persons, 13 in private and 12 colored. The confirmations by both bishops during the past year amount in all to 1986, the largest in the history of the diocese.

There are 43 licensed lay readers in the diocese, which testify to the growing value of their ministrations, where there is mission work to be done, or where parishes have difficulty in securing ministers.

The council then took a recess until 2:30 p. m.

Evening Session, 3 O'clock

The council reconvened for business at the above hour with Bishop Coadjutor Brown in the chair. The Standing Committees of the Diocese and the Sunday School Commission were both re-elected together with the Finance Committee and some of the committees.

The hour now arrived for the election of deputies to the General Convention which meets in St. Louis next fall, for which four clerical and four lay deputies are to be chosen.

The following nominations were made for clerical deputies: the Revs. E. L. Goodwin, D. D., W. D. Smith, D. D., J. J. Gravatt, D. D., Berryman Green, D. D., W. J. Morton, Angus Crawford, D. D., W. Russell Bowie, D. D., Geo. P. Mayo and J. W. Morris, D. D.

The following nominations were made for lay deputies: Messrs. Robert Beverley, Judge J. K. M. Norton, Roswell Page, H. L. Lyman, Judge Carter Scott, J. Stewart Bryan, L. C. Williams, P. H. Mayo, James Cackie and J. H. Dillard.

Tellers were appointed to take the ballots for clercial and lay deputies, and the first ballot was taken for each which reesulted as folows:

Clerical deputies: whole number of ballots counted 107; necessary to a choice 54.

The Revs. E. L. Goodwin, D. D., 78; Angus Crawford, D. D., 76; W. D. Smith, D. D., 72; J. J. Gravatt, D. D., 58; W. D. Bowie, D. D., 31; W. J. Morton, 22; James W. Morris, D. D., 21; W. D. Barkhardt, 12; Geo. P. Mayo, 7; K. J. Hammond, 1; P. P. Phillips, 1;

The Revs. E. L. Goodwin, D. D., Angus Crawford, D. D., W. D. Smith, D. D., and J. J. Gravatt, D. D., were declared elected as deputies to the next General Convention and the Revs. W. D. Bowie, D. D., Beryman Green, D. D., W. P. Morton and J. W. Morris, D. D., are chosen as alternates.

The following votes were taken for lay delegates: whole number of votes taken 104; necessary to a choice 53. The deputies elected are Judge Carter Scott, 70; J. S. Bryan, 59; Rosewell Page, 58; and Judge J. K. M. Norton, 54; Alternate lay deputies. H. L. Lyman, 48; Robert Beverley, 42; P. H. Mayo, 36; and L. C. Williams, 17; Votes were also cast for James Caskie, 16; J. H. Dillard, 7 and J. B. Minor, 7.

This is the first occasion on which both clercial and lay deputies have been elected on the first ballot.

During the time the tellers were conting the ballots the Rev. Wm. D. Smith announced that the Diocesan budget for the net council year would be over $24,000. The apportionments contained in this budget are for General Missions, Diocesan Missions, the Educatoin Society for maintaining students at the Seminary, the Church Pension Fund, the Disabled Clergy Fund, and the Fund for the Widows and Orphans of deceased clergy.

There was a long debate on adding the Social Service Commission to the number of objects fund in the canons for obtaining an apportionment from the diocsean budget or from the contingent fund. The resolution for obtaining this fund was lost.

The council then adjourned to meet at eight o'clock at night in the interest of diocecesan misions.
